FROM THE PRESIDENT

As I reflect on 2020 and my second term as President of the Manchester Historic Association, the words Gratitude and Thanks are forefront in my mind.

I am thankful for our small but mighty staff – John Clayton, Jeff Barraclough, Kristy Ellsworth and Dan Peters. They collectively kept us ‘running’ and brainstormed creative ideas to keep our members engaged even when we were forced to close the Millyard Museum and Research Center.

I am thankful for my fellow Trustees who exhibit tireless dedication and support. Without them, my job would be much more difficult. I’m sorry we are losing a Trustee this year whose term is at an end – a special thanks to Therese Gesel-Towne for her support and expertise. I am thankful she will stay involved at the Committee level.

Despite the challenges we faced in 2020, I am grateful and proud our team was able to:

- Reopen the Museum and Research Center safely after a 3-month closure
- Present the Manchester Urban Pond Exhibit (now on video)
- Provide many outdoor programs such as the Millyard Walking Tours, the Valley Street Cemetery and the Mt. Calvary Cemetery tours (a creative collaboration with the Majestic Theatre)
- Offer educational material and “history at home” worksheets online
- Present our 28th Annual Historic Preservation Awards virtually and continue the long-standing tradition of recognizing those who make significant contributions to the preservation of historic resources in Manchester.
- Receive funding from PPP and the NH Nonprofit Emergency Relief Fund. And, grants from the NH Humanities CARES Grant, the New Hampshire Charitable Foundation and the Hunt Foundation. These grants funded much needed facility upgrades as well as sustaining our operations during a challenging time.

And, I am especially grateful to you – our members, partners, supporters, and of course volunteers! Your continued support and dedication to the Manchester Historic Association is heartwarming and inspires us daily. What a year it has been – what history has been made! Now onward to our 125th Year to continue our mission to collect, preserve, and share Manchester’s rich history.

Colleen G. Kurlansky, President, Board of Trustees

FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Over the course of the past century, just one person has approached this annual report under similar circumstances. That would be William P. Farmer, who was President of the Manchester Historic Association from 1911-1928. It was he who would have been charged with informing members about the ups and downs of the MHA amidst the Spanish Flu Epidemic of 1918, and I am happy to report that for all of the downs – such as our shutdown from March 16-July 1 – there have been plenty of ups for us.

Due to circumstances attributed to COVID-19, in-person field trips at the Millyard Museum were deemed out of the question in the spring and fall, but we believed it was important that Manchester students be reached through the medium of video. Thanks to a grant from Amoskeag Industries, we were able to produce a meticulous video tour of the Millyard Museum. Working with the Manchester School District enabled us to direct the 10-part tour specifically to the academic needs of principals and teachers. Along with hands-on work sheets produced by Museum Educator Kristy Ellsworth, the finished video is now available for classes to view in individual segments that are suitable for home-schooling, hybrid learning or in-person instruction.

Outdoor walking tours were also modified in keeping with suggested health protocols, but, with masks and carefully orchestrated choreography, we were able to offer walking tours of the Millyard, and, thanks to our friends at the Majestic Theater, we produced actor-driven tours of Mount Calvary and Valley Cemeteries that were enormously successful. Also due to COVID-19, we were compelled to hold our Historic Preservation Awards in a virtual format – history-making in its own right -- with thanks to Manchester-based Heartwood Media.

Two outstanding exhibits also emerged from the dust of COVID-19, as we celebrated “Manchester’s Urban Ponds: Past, Present and Future,” followed by “Pandora By Design: Sweaters from the Millyard.” And through it all, Director of Operations Jeff Barraclough and Research and Facilities Manager Daniel Peters worked with scores of historians – both amateur and professional – who took advantage of enhanced offerings at our Research Center at 129 Amherst Street.

A challenging year? Yes, but thanks to enormous support from our board of directors and the work of an ingenious and innovative staff, the Manchester Historic Association is well positioned to celebrate its 125th birthday in 2021.

John Clayton, Executive Director

2020 PROGRAMS, EVENTS, AND TOURS

School Programs

In 2020, the Manchester Historic Association had its field trip season cut short due to the pandemic. In just the few short months of January, February and March, we saw over 600 students from across the state. We continued our pledge to provide educational experiences to 4th graders by creating and sharing over 50 educational worksheets and activities from March to July.

AARP Mini Tours

Each month, the MHA paired with AARP for a guided group tour at the Millyard Museum. Each 45-minute tour covered a specific topic from Manchester's rich history. Each tour included time for questions with a tour guide. Topics included "The Abenaki and Manchester" and "Manchester and the Path to the Presidency". (February 5 & March 11)

Northwest Elementary Kindergartners City Project

Northwest Elementary kindergartners began a Project Based Learning project where students replicated and improved upon buildings in Manchester as part of their community unit in the winter/spring. The project was viewed by teachers, parents, administrators from the SAU and many other guests over the weekend. (March 6)

Exhibits

Manchester and the Path to the Presidency

Every four years, Manchester is visited by numerous presidential candidates, campaigning in the New Hampshire Primary. This exhibit showcased a chronological history of this process with images of candidates through the years as they engaged with Manchester voters in their homes, on the streets and in the many iconic watering holes that are the lifeblood of so many campaigns. We believe Manchester is the crucible of the Presidential Primary process in New Hampshire, and with this exhibit, we demonstrated the city's pivotal role in American political history.

On Exhibit October 2, 2019 through February 29, 2020

Manchester's Urban Ponds: Past, Present, and Future

Although ponds may not be the first thing one thinks about in Manchester, the Queen City has several ponds that have played an important role in the area's history. More recently, the Manchester Urban Ponds Restoration Program, established in 2000, has led cleanup efforts to help return the city's ponds to their historic uses. This exhibit looks at the history of several of Manchester's urban ponds, including Crystal Lake, Dorrs Pond, Maxwell Pond, Nutts Pond, Pine Island Pond, and Stevens Pond and celebrates the accomplishments of the Urban Ponds Restoration Program over the last 20 years.

On Exhibit July 9, 2019 through January 31, 2020

Collection Highlights—2020

Rogers Group Added to Collection

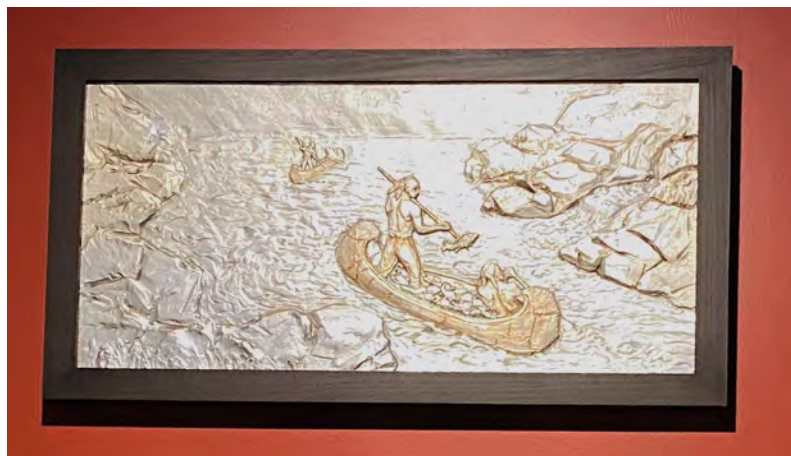

"The Council of War", a sculpture by John Rogers, was acquired by the Manchester Historic Association through an anonymous gift and is now on exhibit at the Millyard Museum.

John Rogers (1829-1904) was a well-known sculptor whose "groups" were popular in the late 19th century. He worked as a mechanic in the machine shop of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company from 1851 to 1858 and while in Manchester began modeling with clay that he found near the Merrimack River in Hooksett.

This particular group depicts President Abraham Lincoln, General Ulysses S. Grant and Secretary of War Edwin M. Stanton. Lincoln is seated, examining plans proposed by Grant for what would become the Overland Campaign of 1864 during the U.S. Civil War. This was one of Rogers' most popular pieces, receiving widespread praise for his depiction of Lincoln. Secretary Stanton wrote to Rogers that, "In form and feature, it surpasses any effort to embody the expression of that great man which I have seen". Later, Robert Todd Lincoln wrote that "his family has always regarded John Rogers' group 'The Council of War' as the most lifelike portrait of his father in sculpture".

Rogers used the likeness of his seated Lincoln again years later in the statue of Lincoln that now sits outside Manchester's Central High School.

The MHA is planning a special exhibit on John Rogers' works, and specifically his connections to Manchester, in early 2022.

Merchants Bank Fishing Mural

In 1951, Merchants Bank commissioned a series of eight plaster relief murals depicting historical scenes of Manchester for their building at 35 Mechanic Street. One, titled Fishing at the Amoskeag Falls, depicts a scene of members of the Penacook Tribe in canoes, fishing near the Amoskeag Falls.

This piece was donated to the Manchester Historic Association by the Eaton family, and is now on exhibit at the Millyard Museum. The scene was chosen to emphasize the importance of fishing to early inhabitants of the area. Thank you to the Eaton family for your generosity!

TREASURER'S REPORT

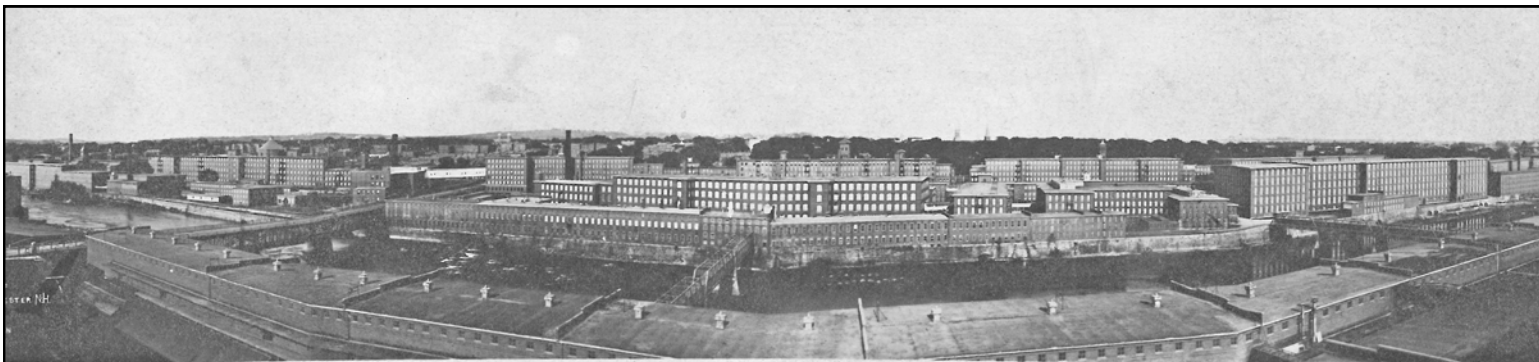

As with many organizations, 2020 had a significant impact to the Manchester Historic Association (MHA) and it is still uncertain as to the continued impact the pandemic will have on the operations of the MHA. The one certainty is that in years to come 2020 is a year that will be marked in history! While the MHA was not able to provide the full spectrum of programs provided in a normal year, it continued to see strong support from gracious granting agencies and donors. Overall, the MHA experienced a decrease in its total public support and revenues of approximately 7.5%. The decline in total public support and revenues was subsidized by the returns recognized from the MHA's investment portfolio. Additionally, with the reduction in programs able to be provided to the community, and the awareness of the operational uncertainty, operational expenses decreased by approximately 9.2%.

All we know, and experience daily, is that life is full of change and uncertainty. As we look forward to 2021, management, staff and the Board of Trustees are dedicated to finding new ways to reach the public to preserve and promote the history of Manchester, New Hampshire. That dedication, and the continued support of the volunteers and community, is what will allow the MHA to fulfill its mission and continue to be a resource to its surrounding community.
